Dear Andy,

The Membership Practices Committee and I are pleased to announce that the Association of California Water Agencies Joint Powers Insurance Authority (ACWA JPIA) has earned AGRiP Recognition. ACWA JPIA's Recognition will be effective for three years beginning Feb. 1, 2020.

However, the MPC recommends ACWA JPIA adopt a physical asset inventory and control policy before its next renewal. We understand ACWA JPIA may have no significant inventory at this time, but it is still important to adequately document fiduciary and financial responsibility for physical assets as outlined in the governance standards. This is an important component of long-term pooling stability and due diligence.

ACWA JPIA will receive a plaque honoring its Recognition at the upcoming AGRiP conference of your choice:

- Governance Conference 2020 (March 1 to 4 in Orlando, FL)
- CEO Institute 2020 (August 2 to 5 in Anchorage, AK)
- Fall Forum 2020 (October 4 to 7 in Dallas, TX)

Please communicate your preference to Denise Lemieux at your earliest convenience.

Keep in mind AGRiP Recognition is not a guarantee ACWA JPIA is appropriately managed or financially solvent and should not be represented as such.

We hope completing the Recognition process helped improve ACWA JPIA's operations and ability to meet its members' needs. AGRiP Recognition is a significant achievement, and I commend ACWA JPIA's effort and dedication to industry best practices.

Yours truly,

Ann Gergen
Executive Director
