SUMMARY

We at JPIA are hootin' and hollerin' in anticipation of the autumn statewide Human Resources Group meeting. The line-up will have you doing the same. Our main session is with national speaker and best-selling author Linda Swindling. We were lucky to lasso her for this event; she has a heart for HR professionals and adjusted her busy schedule to join us. She will be sharing tactics on dealing with those toxic people in the workplace. All of us in HR can use a little help in that area. Click here for the session description and Linda's bio.

We will also have the ever popular session with JPIA General Counsel, Rob Greenfield, dubbed "Ask Me Anything." In addition we will have updates and announcements regarding JPIA services from several of our department managers. So round up everyone in your agency that might have an interest in some or all of the meeting and get registered. All registered participants will be eligible for the raffles. See ya' then pardner.
